

HERE'S the POINT

By SPENCE HELD

Monday morning, Memorial Day, I had intended to sleep late.

Yeah . . . Along about 8 a.m., I was awakened by a shrill barking that went on and on, time without end. Finally I got up and looked out the window. There, right outside the bedroom, stood a small boy calmly surveying our backyard, where the intolerable racket arose from behind some shrubbery. "Is that your dog?" I inquired.

"Yes," the boy replied.

"GET HIM OUT OF THERE!"

He got him out, but there was no more sleep that morning. Gad, does a guy have to build a fence across the front of his yard, too?

When I was a kid, Memorial Day meant a big parade on Broadway with hundreds of Civil War veterans marching or riding in cars.

Once I paused at a downtown corner and watched a Union veteran who had arrived too late to take his place in the parade. There he stood, white-haired and eager, as the long column moved up Broadway between crowded curbs.

As the cars bearing his comrades rolled slowly past, he made despairing efforts to get through the throng. But it was no use and he knew it. So he just stood there, trembling, his old eyes alight with memories, as the Boys of '61 passed in review. The last review for some of them. Perhaps the last for him.

The other day I saw a high school boy from another part of town wearing one of those jackets emblazoned with the name of his private off-campus club. I looked at the name three times to make sure it was spelled the way I thought it was.

The name was "Beaux Esprits."

Rhymes with squirts, huh?

Well, I'm glad to hear that the Point Loma-Ocean Beach Committee for American Field Service Scholarships is making arrangements for a Norwegian boy to attend Point Loma High School next fall.

The Reader's Digest recently had an article about this exchange-student plan. The foreign youngsters interviewed were unanimous in liking the U. S. political system but many of them felt that the academic level of our high schools was fairly low.

A boy from Italy was quoted as follows: "Kids go to high school here to have fun. They think that sports and extracurricular activities are more important than studying. In Europe we go to school to study; we work hard and, if there is any time left over, then we play games or join clubs."

I'll indorse that. Our high schools contain many kids who don't belong there. They don't know anything, and never will know anything.

They just sit, with their minds a blank, and successfully resist all attempts to pound knowledge into their thick skulls.

(In all fairness, there are probably fewer of this type at Point Loma High than at the other high schools in San Diego.)

Here's the point: Maybe the compulsory "education" law should be amended. Maybe kids should be allowed to quit school when they're 16.

Many teachers feel that way.

THREE TEAMS TIED FOR LEAD IN O. B. PONY LEAGUE PLAY

The Ocean Beach Pony League is showing the effects of its even balance, with three teams tied for first place at the end of last week's play.

O. B. Merchants, Fleetridge Realty and 7 Up each had won three and lost two, while O. B. Service Clubs won one and lost four.

Fleetridge climbed into the three-way tie by defeating the Merchants on Tuesday and 7 Up on Saturday by identical scores of 11 to 6.

Terry Love proved tough in the pinches in Tuesday's game and pitched well to win. Bruce Newton upheld his mastery over the 7 Up Club for the second time, and even though Larry Williams had 3 for 4 times at bat and Chuck Welch had 2 for 4, Newton held a fairly firm hand over the losers most of the way. Mike Colello had a perfect 3 for 3 to help Fleetridge win Saturday.

Thursday's game of last week was the gem of the season as 7 Up beat the Service Clubs 1 to 0 behind a no-hit performance by Billy Fontana. Mike Burke was the only Service Clubber to reach first base, only to be

Norwegian Boy Expected To Attend Pt. Loma High

A tall blond Norwegian youth from Trondheim may join in the student life at Point Loma High School this fall.

The Point Loma-Ocean Beach Committee for American Field Service Scholarships, headed by Dr. Don F. Kimmerling as chairman, announced this week that "most of the necessary steps have been accomplished so that 17-year-old Peter Lykke may become part of our community for one year."

He will be welcomed into the home of Col. and Mrs. Ben Huntington, 2425 Evergreen St., and will see for himself the varied facets of our American way of life.

The Point Loma-Ocean Beach committee has accepted the task of raising $1000 in this community to make the scholarship possible. No contribution is too small, it was said. Contributions (which are deductible for income tax) should be sent to Robert F. Heilbron, treasurer, at Point Loma High School, 2335 Chatsworth Blvd.

"These foreign students," said Dr. Kimmerling, "take home with them an appreciation of our American democracy, a knowledge of the American community, church, school and home which can be gained in no other way."

The Point Loma-Ocean Beach committee includes Mrs. I. A. Hegerle, Mrs. Arthur Heilbron, Mrs. Spencer Held, Mrs. Harry Johnson, William T. Kearns, Mrs. T. D. Marks, Dr. S. Dean McBride, Mrs. Donald Ross, Mrs. L. N. Schowengerdt, Mrs. Eugene Stephenson, Frank F. Swan, Mrs. L. A. Whitney and Robert F. Heilbron.

The council also published the school newspaper until it was taken over by the Journalism class and came out as the "Cal-Western" in May.

Marion S. Richards is president of the Student Council, with Jane Alexander as secretary-treasurer. Members include Rosalind Guidry, Louis Roybal, Philip Knights, Barbara Mills, Roy Wayne, Don Ellison, Adra Hostetter, Bonnie Proctor, Sam Howard, Otis Meade and Aquilino B. Santos.

They were introduced by Mrs. Thornton Miller, wife of Adm. Miller, Chaplains Corps, USN. The Ladies Night program was arranged by George Claspill; Edwin Peterson was program chairman.

O. B. 20-30 Club Elects Officers

Ocean Beach 20-30 Club elected new officers at its last meeting, as follows: Bill Adam, president; Don Putzier, vice president; Bob Nutt, sergeant-at-arms; and new directors Erwin Larson, Marvin Westmorland, Fred B. Peart, Bob Hurt and Bob Moore, past president.

The club was chartered into 20-30 International in 1948. It has taken part in many community services, mostly with youth activities at the Community Center. Meetings are held there Mondays at 7 p.m.

20-30 Clubs are composed of men between 20 and 35 years old; they become past active on their 36th birthdays. This poses a problem in membership and causes a constant turnover. Any young men interested in learning more about this organization are asked to call AC 3-0096 or AC 3-0109.

Local Tuna Fishermen Ask Help In Campaign

Importance of the tuna fishing industry to the Peninsula area and the rest of San Diego was pointed out this week as the Tuna Fishermen's Wives Emergency Committee stepped up its letter-writing campaign.

They are asking local merchants and other residents to write President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles in Washington, D. C., urging that a quota be imposed on the importation of Japanese tuna.

The Ocean Beach Chamber of Commerce has been asked to take formal action urging a quota limitation to protect the U. S. tuna industry, concentrated at San Diego and San Pedro.

According to Harold Cary, president of the American Tuna Boat Association, use of American-caught tuna on the American market has shrunk from 91 percent to 45 percent. Local fishermen, many of whom are veterans of the war against Japan, say there would be plenty of business for everyone if a quota gave Japanese fishermen about 30 percent of the U. S. market.

About 70 clippers have been tied up in San Diego Harbor for weeks—some of them more than three months—because American canneries can buy Japanese frozen tuna for $80 to $100 less a ton than American fishermen can afford to sell for.

Meanwhile, American fishermen, because they can't sell their catch, can't get paid. Many have gone five or six months without checks, it was said.

Peninsula residents pointed out that this situation affects all lines of business in San Diego—banks, grocers, ship chandlers, shipyards, etc. Joseph C. Rogers, of 1020 Evergreen St., captain and part owner of the Valiant; Clarence Fernandes, 1258 Santa Barbara St., captain and owner of the Santa Rosa, and David H. Carsten, partner in the Harbor Boat & Yacht Co., 4960 Harbor Dr., called attention to the situation.

The tuna industry, one of San Diego's main industries, must be protected from the flood of foreign fish in the interest of a healthy local economy, they pointed out. All lines of business would be benefited. Rogers and Carsten went to Sacramento last week with a delegation and Assemblyman Frank Luckel made arrangements for them to see Governor Goodwin J. Knight.

Knight promised all the aid he can offer. Meanwhile, the Tuna Fishermen's Wives Emergency Committee declared that the income to Southern California boat owners and fishermen is down over $4,500,000 so far this year as Tuna deliveries by American vessels to the canneries are down more than 28,000,000 pounds.

Fishermen's incomes have been drastically reduced—some families have been forced to sell their homes and others have lost their cars, furniture and other possessions, it was said.

BLUEFIN TUNA ADD SPORT TO YELLOW DERBY

Favored by good showings of bluefin tuna and yellowtail at the Coronado Islands, deep sea anglers launched the third week of the second qualifying period of the $25,000 San Diego Yellowtail Derby with all gears churning and were rapidly closing the gap on the all-time record established in 1954.

Through May 28, for example, derby contestants had boated 26,135 yellows, a total never before reached earlier than the middle of September. A good share of the 41,640 yellows taken in the whole of 1954 were caught in the last three months.

Largest yellow of the week was a 30 pound 3 ounce and the largest bluefin a 23-13. Richard Geiger, Yucaipa, took the big yellow and Leo Dumbert, San Diego, the tuna.

Minimum qualifying weight at the start of the third derby week was 22 pounds 2 ounces. Point Loma-Ocean Beach qualifiers above that weight were: 23-13, Frank Spencer; 43-36 Narragansett; 23-11, C. F. Widdecke; 23-15, Ralph Gastelum, 2253 Seaside; 22-8, W. F. Moring, 4204 Del Mar.

COUNTY FAIR

Ocean Beach and Point Loma will be honored June 29 at the Southern California Exposition and County Fair at Del Mar. The 16th annual extravaganza is to be held June 24 through July 4.

Gay Cowie and Carolyn Zaruba, both 17 and Point Loma High School students will be among the 21 girls competing Saturday, June 4, in the "Fairness of the Fair—Miss Con-Tour" finals at the Del Mar Hotel.

The coronation ball will be held that night in the hotel—open, like the judging, to the public.

Winner of the queen contest will reign for 11 days at the Expo and Fair. She will receive several trophies, appear on TV shows in Hollywood, and attend special functions of the San Diego Convention and Tourist Bureau. In August she will be San Diego County's entry in the Maid of California queen pageant at Sacramento.

Thrill and speed enthusiasts will have the opportunity to see an almost brand-new galaxy of 4836 Naragansett; 23-11, C. F. Widdecke; 23-15, Ralph Gastelum, 2253 Seaside; 22-8, W. F. Moring, 4204 Del Mar.

TICKETS SELLING RAPIDLY FOR 'U' PLAYS FRI. & SAT.

Tickets are selling rapidly for the three one-act plays to be given by the University and Community Players of California Western University tomorrow and Saturday, according to Carl Glick, university drama instructor who directs the group.

"Due to limited seating capacity, all the tickets for the Saturday night performance have been sold," Glick said, "but tickets are still available for the performance Friday at 8:15 p.m. and Saturday's 2 p.m. matinee."

He credited "an excellent job" by the membership committee for the early Saturday night sell-out.

The one-act plays to be given include "Two Slatterns and a King" by Edna St. Vincent Millay, "The Valiant" by Holworthy Hall and Robert Middlemass, and "For Distinguished Service" by Florence Clay Knox.

Performing with the little theatre group are residents of Ocean Beach and Point Loma and students at the university. The one-act plays will be the first theatrical production given in Salomon Hall, the university's little theatre building, since it was renovated late last year and named in honor of Col. Irving Salomon of Escondido.

Acting in "Two Slatterns and a King" will be James Leighton, Lily Coffee Sandoval, S. Dunham Wilson, Starr Wilson, and Wilanne Schneider Belden.

On stage in "The Valiant" will be Joseph E. Hitt Jr., Daniel L. Macey, Robert M. Vickers, Marion S. Richards, Clayton William Dray, and Marjorie Bollum.

Actresses appearing in "For Distinguished Service" will be Maggi Jennings, Beverly Becker, and Vicki Bennett.

Subscribing memberships to the "University and Community Players" are still being sold by the membership committee for one dollar each. Purchase of a membership entitles the purchaser to two tickets for a performance. Individual tickets sell for 50 cents each.

Making up the membership committee are Mrs. Robert Kircher, Mrs. Maggi Jennings, Mrs. Mary Goegert, Mrs. Esther Knopp, Mrs. Robert Landis, Mrs. S. Dunham Wilson, Mrs. Cornelia Simington, Mrs. Virginia Stewart, and Mrs. Robert Vickers.

James Leighton, former resident stage manager for the Cam-pus Theatre at the University of Southern California, is designing sets for the one-act plays.

Sportsman's Booth
Readied For Fair
By Silver Gate Unit

With a sign proclaiming, "The fish won't touch it, but fishermen go for it like mad!", Silver Gate Unit of the Women's Auxiliary of the Children's Hospital will be calling not only Peninsula area men, but all men to their Sportsman's booth at the second annual Children's Hospital Fair. The event is scheduled for Saturday in the Town and Country Hotel. Hours will be from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Most bazaars and fairs are amply supplied with items for women only, but this year the Silver Gate unit has a special booth of sporting and hobby equipment for men and boys over 12.

Members began soliciting local and downtown merchants early last summer and are now busy counting fish hooks, jars of bait, fishing poles and reels, tackle boxes, fins, diving masks, volley balls, spools of line and numerous hobby items.

Peninsula golfers will be interested in the hand knitted golf mitts and for the 19th hole hand-painted glasses of appropriate size.

Entertainment has been planned for the entire day to please child and adult alike. Last year the Fair attracted more than 6,000 people and raised $13,000 for the Children's Hospital which is now completed and in full operation on Kearney Mesa.

Again this year, which is the fifth anniversary of the Padre Puppeteers, free tickets will be given to any group of Scouts, Sunday School children, and the like. Tickets for such groups may be obtained by calling AC-3-5650 or HO-6-7128.

"Change tires? Not me
YOU'VE DIALED THE WRONG NUMBER"

How to make sure you get the right number

Look it up. Be sure you look up the right number in your directory or Blue Book before you start to dial.

Let it down. It helps to have the number written down in front of you so you don't forget it while you dial.

Dial the complete number. Be sure you dial the first two letters and the numeral of the prefix, then the other four figures. For example, to call CYpress 5-7599, first dial C-Y-5, then dial 7-5-9-9. Pacific Telephone
